

SÉBASTIEN CARRÈRE

30/08/2024

BSE UMR – CNRS 6060, Université de Bordeaux, Avenue Léon Duguit, 33608 PESSAC CEDEX

✉ sebastien.carrere@u-bordeaux.fr – @ Personnel website

PhD Candidate in Development Economics

CURRENT POSITION

PhD Candidate in Applied Economics, University of Bordeaux Sept. 2019 - Present

-Thesis title: "The Vulnerable Classes in Latin America: Instability, Redistributive Expectations, and Securization" : Defense scheduled for December 10, 2024.

-Research interests: development economics, social stratification, public policies , poverty dynamics, Latin America

EDUCATION

Master in Development Economics, University of Bordeaux Passed in 2019

-Theories in development economics ; Quantitative techniques in econometrics, microeconometrics, statistics and demography applied to developing countries

Bachelor in Economics, University of Tours Passed in 2017

-Economics studies focused on microeconomics, macroeconomics, statistics and economics history

WORK EXPERIENCE

Research Assistant, University of Bordeaux (BSE) Sept. 2023 – Aug. 2024

-Projet SPES: Sustainability Performances, Evidence and Scenarios.

Instructor, University of Bordeaux Sept. 2019 – Aug. 2023

-Teach macroeconomics and statistics for undergraduate students in economics studies.

PAPERS AND PROJECTS

Research articles 2024

-Redistributive preferences and the center-periphery divide in Latin America. Working paper.

-How effective are cash transfer programs in mitigating income instability: evidence from the AUH in Argentina. Submitted. See reference.

-A socio-economic exploration of Argentinean middle class' vulnerability, behaviour and expectations in hard times. With Clément, M. (BSE), Combarrous, F. (BSE), Kessler, G. (CONICET), Rougier, E. (BSE), Wilkis, A. (IDEAS). Submitted.

-The middle classes, the state, and the market: lessons from a double qualitative survey in Argentina. With Clément, M. (BSE), Combarrous, F. (BSE), Kessler, G. (CONICET), Rougier, E. (BSE), Wilkis, A. (IDEAS). Submitted.

Research Project 2020-2022

-The Middle class in Argentina: Dynamics, characteristics and implications for public policies. With M.Clément (BSE), F.Combarrous (BSE), G.Kessler (CONICET), E.Rougier (BSE) and A.Wilkis (CONICET), AFD Research Paper Series 241. See reference.

TECHNICAL STRENGTHS

Computer Skills & Software Languages

Stata (Advanced), R (Intermediate), Python (Beginner), L^AT_EX
French (Mother tongue), English (Advanced), Spanish (Beginner)